What we do claim as our invention, and desire to secure, is the combination of the following parts above described, to wit, the core and bridge, or guide die, when used to form pipes of metal, under heat and pressure in the manner set forth, or in any other manner substantially the same. The judge in the Circuit Court had instructed the jury in respect to patentability over the publications cited, showing the application of like machines in other arts, that: The result is a new manufacture, and even if the mere combination of machinery in the abstract is not new, still, if used and applied in connection-with the practical development of a principle newly discovered, producing a new and useful result, the subject is patentable. In this view, the improvement of the plaintiff is the application of a combination of...
